

A second degree polynomial model provides a better fit for France

